MOST POWERFUL BATTLESHIP,-The naval board of experts will give serious attention to designs for the largest and most powerful warship ever at tempted in this country and over 1000 tons heavier than the greatest vessel ever constructed abroad. It had been believed that the limit of size in the battleship line was reeched when Great Britain began the building of 15,000-ton vessels, which are practically duplicated in displacement by the Georgia and Virginia type, now under way, but Admirai Bowlee and other officers of the construction board have the opinion that battleships can be built larger, with greater speed and carrying far more formidable batteries. There is every probability that plans will be submitted to Congress calling for at least one 16,000-ton battleship mounting four 12-loch guns, 16 8-inch guns and 32 3-inch, a battery not jequalled by any fighting vessel ever built. This battery would, in fact, surpass the combined batteries of almost any two armored cruisers, and with a speed of 21 knots the new ship would be the most powerful monster of the jees. It is proposed that such a vessel shall be 450 feet long, or many feet longer than any vessel of the battleship line was reached when Great many feet longer than any versel of the

HIS EIGHTEENTH WIFE .- A dispatch from St. Marys, W. Va., says: George Washington Anderson has taken another wife. He is sixty-three years old and came to St. Marysa few months ago as a travelling insurance agent. He married Mrs. Martha Wells, a widow of sixty, got hold of her property, and of sixty, got hold of her property, and then b came ill. Thinking he was going to die, he revesled to her his past, giving dates and places of sixteen previous marriages, and acknowledged that fourteen of the wives were still alive. Wie No. 17 promptly turned him out and sued for her property. He was taken to the poorhouse, where he recovered. He was to have been indicted for bigamy, but Thursday he escaped from the poorhouse, taking with him Minnie Martin, a balf-witted woman of twenty-six. They were mar-ried at Marietta and then disappeared.
